Americans Will Be Taken From Nigeria

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—The U.S. Embassy is making plans to begin an airlift Saturday of some 700 Americans from the breakaway eastern region of Nigeria as war threatens between the federal and central government forces. U.S. Ambassador Elbert G. Matthews advised American firms to withdraw dependents from the eastern region which its military governor, Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, has declared the independent republic of Biafra. Beginning Saturday, chartered DC4 planes will evacuate 700 elderly persons, children, pregnant women and others described as "unable to travel quickly during an emergency." Most of them will come from Port Harcourt, where about 800 of the 2,000 Americans are believed to be in eastern Nigeria. The evacuation is expected to continue for a week.

June Hands Northeast Cold Readings

By The Associated Press
Newly arriving June handed the nation's Northeast some of the coldest temperatures ever recorded for the month today. Such records were set by a reading of 31 degrees at Concord, N.H.; 40 at Windsor Locks, Conn.; 44 at Philadelphia, Pa. Rains continued a series of broad belt of the nation from the Carolinas to the Far West, and a belt of unusually cool air in the northern states contrasted with humid warmth in the South.

Elected Officials Asked To Record Travel

BOISE (AP)—Idaho's elected officials were asked today to keep the State Budget Bureau advised of any out-of-state travel by their staffs and the addition of new employees.

But there was no mention in the memorandum circulating to the elected officials by Budget Director James A. Deffenbach of any need for advance approval of travel plans.

Gov. Don W. Samuelson told elected officials to conform to the policy Wednesday that appointed heads of departments under his jurisdiction are required to get advance approval from his office for any travel outside Idaho. He suggested the elected officials do likewise.

Atty. Gen. Allan G. Sheperd questioned the right of the budget bureau to require rule on travel plans of elected officials or their employees. Samuelson and Deffenbach replied in the memorandum simply a request, not an order.

The memorandum, Deffenbach asked elected officials to submit to the budget office a summary showing the number of people traveling out of state, their destination, purpose of the trip, and the total cost at the end of each month, beginning with June.

Routes Change

BOISE (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission reported Thursday it has authorized Greyhound Lines, Inc., to revise its bus routes in Idaho in order to take advantage of completed sections of interstate highways.

There is no substantial change in routes, the commission said, but Greyhound is authorized to use Interstate 80 in the Jerome area and Interstate 15 from Idaho Falls south. The company is authorized to leave the interstate on available routes to provide service to communities along the way.

Last Rebuttal Witness Takes Trial Stand

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—An Army physician with battlefield experience in Vietnam told military tribunal today that Green Beret medics are essential in the U.S. medical program in Vietnam.

He was the final prosecution witness in the court-martial of Army Capt. Howard B. Levy, who is charged with refusing to obey orders to train Special Forces medics and with promoting disloyalty.

"Could you have performed your mission over there without these medics?" an Army prosecutor asked the witness.

"Absolutely not," replied Maj. Craig Llewellyn, a surgeon now assigned to training Special Forces medics at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Llewellyn, 26, a native of Berkeley, Pa., and Yale graduate, was a group surgeon for Special Forces in Vietnam from July, 1965, to December, 1966.

He was the last rebuttal witness at the trial of Lt. Levy, 30-year-old Army dermatologist from Brooklyn, N.Y.

Guerrilla Unit Charged By Americans

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP)—An American armored force charged today into a huge guerrilla unit uncovered on the South Vietnamese coast by one of the war's most spectacularly successful naval bombardments.

The coastal action was announced as the U.S. Command reported the highest American casualty of the war, the greatest monthly loss of U.S. planes in raids over North Vietnam and a record monthly toll of North Vietnamese MiGs.

U.S. casualties last week totaled 2,041-313 killed, 2,018 wounded and 12 missing or captured. The command said 30 U.S. warplanes were lost over North Vietnam during May, three more than the previous March and July, while a record 27 Communist jets were shot down in dogfights during the month.

U.S. Carrier Sails Into Red Sea Shadowed By 2 Egyptian Submarines

By DENNIS NEEDLE
CAIRO (AP)—Shadowed by two Egyptian submarines, the U.S. carrier Intrepid sailed into the Red Sea today after passing through the Suez Canal.

About 300 Egyptian demonstrators screamed epithets at the carrier from the canal bank, apparently convinced the 41,000-ton ship will try to break Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba. The Defense Department in Washington insists the Intrepid is sailing for Vietnam.

Carly newspapers reiterated charges that the Intrepid would take up a position off the Gulf of Aqaba, which President Gamal Abdel Nasser has barred to Israeli shipping.

The Egyptian submarines passed through the canal ahead of the Intrepid, then began shadowing her as she entered the Red Sea.

As the Middle East crisis simmered, troops from Iraq and Kuwait joined the Arab forces against Israel, and Britain urged maritime powers to declare the Gulf of Aqaba and the Strait of Tiran a mouth, international waters open to all ships, including Israel.

The United States pushed for adoption by the U.N. Security Council of a resolution urging both the Arabs and Israelis to pool off while diplomats continued efforts to resolve the Middle East crisis.

The United States was told by Egypt to avoid involvement in Egypt's announced blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba and by Israel that not only Israeli's interests but the foundations of international law are at stake in the Aqaba issue. The Gulf leads to the Israeli port of Eilat, through which 90 per cent of the Jewish nation's oil is imported.

In a pointed warning to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, British Foreign Secretary George Brown told the House of Commons that the British government will consider any unilateral closing of the Gulf of Aqaba an act of belligerence.

Brown said his government is seeking a "clear declaration of intent" from the Arab states to "international maritime law."

At the southern end of the Red Sea, the British aircraft carrier Hermes was recalled to Aden, concentrated in the Sinai Peninsula because of the crisis. She had been en route to the Far East.

The arrival in Egypt of forces from other Arab nations added little numerically to the 80,000 Egyptian troops Nasser has concentrated in the Sinai Peninsula on Israel's southwest border. But the arrivals underlined the growing Arab unity Nasser is forging.

An advance unit of the Iraqi army arrived by plane in Egypt Wednesday, and more Iraqi troops were scheduled to arrive today. Among them was the son of Iraqi President Abdul Rahman Aref, a young lieutenant.

Northern Portion of Valley Is Hit By Snow, Rain, Lightning

A sporadic weather system wrought heavy damage in some areas and evidently injured livestock throughout Magic Valley Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Galena Summit received six inches of new snow and two and three-fourths inches fell at Graciosa Lodge. Intermittent showers have been falling throughout the area, including Carey, Hurley, and Fairfield areas.

The new snow in the mountain regions, along with 1.43 inches of rain which fell at Fairfield during a 24-hour period, could increase flood threats if the weather turns warmer.

Although cool weather has reduced chances of flooding, crews still are piling large rocks along the banks of the Wood River as insurance.

Judge Testifies In Court Annex Case

Theron W. Ward, senior judge of the Eleventh Judicial District of Idaho, took the witness stand in his own courtroom Thursday morning in Twin Falls to testify as to court facilities needed and the emergency created in the local area. He was called as a witness by Lloyd Webb, legal counsel for the Twin Falls County commissioners, on trial in connection with their plans for construction of a legal annex to the present courthouse.

Hernandez Selection Explained

BY ROBERT T. GRAY — WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure on the administration to put more Americans of Spanish descent in significant government jobs led to selection of a New Mexico lawyer and nonpolitician as U.S. ambassador to Paraguay, informed sources say. President Johnson announced Tuesday he will nominate Benigno G. Hernandez, 48, of Albuquerque to succeed William F. Snow, a career diplomat reassigned to Washington. Hernandez, citing his lack of diplomatic experience and the fact he has never been to South America, told newsmen Wednesday he didn't know why he was selected but considered himself honored. The nomination is subject to confirmation by the Senate, where initial reaction included raised eyebrows. There will probably be some interesting questions asked when the Foreign Relations Committee holds hearings on the appointment, said Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. Sen. John Sherman Cooper, a Republican member of that committee and a former U.S. ambassador to India, said the appointee's mind will be unclouded; "at least," when he turns to diplomatic affairs. Hernandez scheduled a meeting with State Department officials today. He told reporters

(the first he heard of his appointment was through a call from the White House two weeks ago. "They didn't say how they got my name," he said. His selection came about this way, it was learned. Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., expressed concern to the White House late last year that insufficient progress was being made in naming Spanish descendants to desirable government jobs. Montoya, whose home state includes many Mexican-Americans, said both President John F. Kennedy and Johnson had promised to make such appointments. Administrative representatives discussed the matter with Montoya, asking him to submit a list of names of highly qualified persons. No jobs were specified. Hernandez' name was among several Montoya submitted. The lawyer was notified he was under consideration for a State Department post but the ambassadorship was not mentioned specifically. Montoya's office said the senator had designated Hernandez as eminently qualified for a high government post and would speak in his behalf before the Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate floor.

Hernandez served four years on the New Mexico Board of Finance and has been active in government and civic affairs of Albuquerque. He is a member of the rehabilitation advisory committee to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and of an advisory panel to the Office of Economic Opportunity. He was a Navy flying instructor in World War II.

5 Indicted On Charges Of Fraud

BOISE (AP) — Five men have been indicted on charges of fraud in a securities transaction that may cost 600 Idaho residents some half-million dollars.

The five were named in a grand indictment issued by a grand jury in U.S. District Court here. Three of the five have been taken into custody.

U. S. Atty. Sylvan Jeppesen said Wednesday transactions involving Dairy Snow Products Inc. and a parent corporation, Dairy Snow Inc., brought about the indictment.

In custody are Melvin Douglas Pelgriss, Michael J. Boulds and Wayne Hoffines, all of Boise. Also named in the indictment are Sterling to Grande Pelgriss, Portland, Ore., and Tom McCandless, Spokane, Wash.

Jeppesen said about 600 Idaho residents invested approximately $435,000 in securities of the Dairy Snow firms and that the five men were accused in the indictment "of executing a scheme that defrauded the investors."

Dairy Snow Products Inc. filed a bankruptcy petition in federal court in September, 1966, Jeppesen said.

"The scheme," Jeppesen said, "embraced a transfer of more than $200,000 in securities, under the pretext of getting a franchise from the parent corporation for the manufacture and distribution of ice cream confections, when the latter held no such rights on which to grant a franchise," he added, continuing.

The indictment states further that the defendants, while fraudulently representing that they were selling securities for Dairy Snow Products, sold those held by the parent corporation that had been assigned to the defendants as a bonus, and that the defendants retained the proceeds from these sales. It is alleged that the investors were led to believe that their money was being invested in Dairy Snow Products, Inc.

APPEAL FOR DRIVE

BOISE (AP) — An appeal to head a drive for funds for the United Service Organization has been made by the majority of all cities in Idaho where USO is not included in Community Chest, or United Fund drives, the state USO chairman said Wednesday.

MEETING SET

BOISE (AP) — A meeting of the Idaho State Board was announced Thursday for June 13 and a proposed sale of state land in the Payette Lake area will be considered.

At the May meeting of the board, action on the proposed sale was delayed to permit Gov. Don W. Samuelson and Secretary of State Pete T. Connors to view the area involved.

They did so and both said they believed sale of the 1,700 acres for private development for recreational and summer homesite purposes would be to the advantage of the state.

MURPHY CHOSEN

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Jack Murphy was designated Thursday as Gov. Don W. Samuelson's official representative at the Idaho State University commencement program Friday in Pocatello.

Man Retires

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — James Smith was on the job for 50 years and stayed out of the news for 50 years, because of an injury suffered in a company baseball game.

Smith, 65, retired Wednesday from his job as a bookkeeper.

At a going-away party, he recalls that day he didn't get to the office. It was on a Sunday in 1923, Smith said, when he strained a ligament in his leg and stayed home the next day.

"He temporarily put it in a cast and I took it off," he said. "I was here the next day."

Secretary Takes Gun From Man

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Anna Marie Iff, a blonde secretary, took a hold-up man's toy gun away from him after he ordered her to undress so she couldn't run.

Miss Iff, 28, was alone in the Swiss-National Tourist Office Wednesday when the robber pulled his gun and demanded money.

"I didn't have the combination for the safe so I gave him $11 from my purse," Miss Iff said.

"Then he told me to go to the back of the office and take my clothes off so I wouldn't try to fool him."

"He grabbed my blouse when I hesitated and he forgot about his gun so I grabbed it. That's when I found out it was a toy. She screamed then, Howard Wilcox, 37, a clerk working in the basement, ran up into the office but the robber had fled.

Solons Asked To View Abolishment Of Guards

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve National Guard generals have petitioned Congress to scrutinize critically a proposal to abolish 15 Guard divisions, they contend, such a move would cut down the nation's combat effectiveness "and dangerously impact the military prestige of our country in the period of international crisis."

This was disclosed as the Pentagon moved closer today to announcing its latest streamlining plan—which is virtually certain to kick-up a storm in the states and on Capitol Hill.

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, gave House Armed Services Committee members a secret briefing on the proposal Wednesday.

Signing the petition drawn up at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., were commanders of 41 of the Guard's 21 divisions, plus five other Guard generals. The only division commander who consented were those of the 50th Armored Division of New Jersey and the 30th Infantry Division of North Carolina. Both these divisions are expected to survive.

The plan reportedly involves an overall reduction of about 1,000 company-size National Guard units and more than 300 in the Army Reserve.

Among the Reserve units due to be dropped are its last four Infantry brigades. The net effect of the reorganization would be to group all combat and combat support units of the Army's backup forces in the Guard and all the miscellaneous service units in the Reserve.

Men in disbanded units would be invited to join surviving units or to transfer to other units in the Reserve.

Kootenai River Shows Gradual Rise

BONNERS FERRY, IDAHO (AP) — The Kootenai River has resumed a gradual rise toward flood stage here, the U.S. Weather Bureau in Spokane said Tuesday.

A reading of 30.5 feet—just six inches under flood stage—was forecast for Saturday. Then the river was expected to level off for a day or two before starting to rise again.

Although flood stage is 31 feet, dikes protect the community to about 37 feet.

The Guard would include a first-line backup force of three divisions and 18 independent brigades.

In their petition, the Guard generals noted that in recent years the Pentagon has deactivated 14 divisions, four in the Guard and 10 in the Reserve.

"Continued reduction in the number of major units would result in further turbulence and consequent impairment of combat effectiveness," the petition said.

"Such attrition action would limit the flexibility of the total response. It would also result in a serious loss of capability to respond to domestic security requirements."

Multiple-Use Of Corridor Is Planned

By The Associated Press
A multiple-use plan for the Magruder Corridor in Northeast Idaho with emphasis on maintaining wild-in-conditions is being developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., said Wednesday.

He said Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will direct the U. S. Forest Service to prepare the new plan upon recommendations of a citizens committee which has studied the area.

The corridor, a part of the Selway-Blitterroot National Forest, is between the Selway-Blitterroot Wilderness and the Salmon Breaks Primitive Area.

While the plan is being prepared, harvesting of timber in the area is being delayed at Freeman's request, Metcalf said.

The multiple use plan, according to Freeman, will coordinate resource development and management plans using the guiding policy that all land management shall reflect and maintain wild land conditions constant with primary values of the corridor's watershed, fisheries, historic and recreational resources.

The timber-cutting moratorium will continue until "commercial timber and timberland have been specifically and comprehensively evaluated."

The Citizens Review Committee, headed by Dr. George A. Selke, a former chancellor of the University of Montana, held public meetings in Missoula, Mont., and Boise and Grandville before making its recommendations.

feel we will be more effective in this unstructured type of life." She said they would wear modern dress and use their legal names. They will live in groups of five or more in Milwaukee apartments and will divide their earnings among the group. No financial support will be provided by the Catholic Church.

"We feel that under the present form of religious life, we can't be optimally effective to the needs of today's world. We feel that in living together in smaller groups we will be free to administer to the needs of the people," Sister Mary Michael said.

Mother Superior John Roberta of the Daughters of the Cross convent issued a statement after the nun-nun announcement. "In the history of the Church different groups within congregations have felt that they wish to do other types of work, that God is asking them to do other expressions of work than that which their order is dedicated," she said.

The nuns, through the mind of the Church, are answering the request of Vatican II (second Vatican Council) to go out and live a different type of life to administer to the needs of the people. The Daughters of the Cross now has this in their desire.

The group members range in age from 24 to 54 and it includes one member who has been a nun for 37 years and six who have not professed their final vows.

Their departure will leave the Shreveport-based order with about 60 nuns.

Sister Mary Michael said seven of the nuns have applied for jobs in Milwaukee, public schools - others will teach in parochial schools or universities and others will pursue other fields of work. She said the group will not necessarily live in the poor sections of town, for "we are educators and feel that our impact mental programs in Milwaukee are not going to Milwaukee just one member who has been a nun for 37 years and six who have not professed their final vows." Commenting on the dispensation from the vows of chastity, poverty and obedience, which a nun is required to take, one of the sisters said, "We take vows under two aspects: private vows and public vows to the church. We are giving up the jobs in Milwaukee, public schools - others will teach in parochial schools or universities and others will pursue other fields of work. Although the group is the first of this order to try such an experiment, and one of the largest to leave a single congregation for such a purpose, other nuns have established experimental programs in Milwaukee."

Customers Line Up To Buy Tickets At New York Lottery

By JOHN MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Tickets for the New York State Lottery went on sale at 12:01 a.m. today and within minutes customers were lined up in one hotel waiting to lay out a dollar for the chance of a $250,000 return.

First to purchase a ticket from the tuxedoed salesman at the Americana Hotel was Patricia Nelson, a Bronx housewife, who said, "I know I'm not going to win, but if I do I'll probably spend it."

Forty-five minutes after the booth opened for business, the hotel had sold 111 of the green and white $1 tickets, including a number to out-of-staters who first received assurances that they were eligible to win.

Robert Goldfarb of St. Thomas, V.I., bought five tickets and gave one to a reporter. "That's good luck—an old lottery custom," he explained. "You give somebody a ticket you've bought."

Most outlets, which include about 4,000 hotels, motels and banks throughout the state, did not plan to start selling tickets until later in the day.

The state hopes to sell 30 million tickets during the first million a year or enough for a $199-million net profit, all of which must be used for education.

At the nightly drawings, there will be 540 prizes totaling

J.R. Simplot Plant Closes At Heyburn

HEYBURN—Hugo Dal Soglio announced today that the production plant at Heyburn, J.R. Simplot Co., plant in Heyburn has been closed.

Dal Soglio said, "We are pleased that we have been able to operate this late in the season and utilize as many potatoes as possible from the past year's crop."

He stressed that through the buying program during the year the company has made every effort to utilize as many potatoes as possible in many instances, he said, the unused potatoes are of extremely poor quality or are sprouted to the point where they are expensive to handle and have very little value as a raw product.

The company extended its run by several weeks this season to use what unused potatoes it could in the processing plants. Dal Soglio said "We are presently scraping the bottom of the barrel, so to speak, because of the number of sprouts, rot and generally poor storage conditions of the potatoes we have been receiving."

The general quality of potatoes has been poor all season because of excessive bruising and poor storage practices, the official said. Growers were encouraged to be more mindful of harvest and storage practices this fall, since good quality potatoes always find a market. The poor quality potatoes are sacrificed in a high production year, he noted. Processors, shippers and the housewife will always buy high quality potatoes, he concluded.

Adopts Son

LAKE OSWEGO, Ore. (AP)—Two years ago, Tony Plaza was said to be the first single male in the United States to have adopted a child through a licensed agency.

He adopted his second son and it was approved Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge John Lewis.

"I don't want to raise Eric alone," the 35-year-old divorced man said. "I wanted him to have a brother."

Plaza is a music teacher at his home in the day and plays the piano in a restaurant at night. He has no children from his marriage.

Anthony Eric is now the new brother, Christian William, is 15 months.

Cash Circulation Trend Is Upward

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here's more proof of growing American affluence.

The Treasury Department said today there was $220.10 cash in circulation for every man, woman and child in the nation as of April 30.

That wasn't a record—the per capita high was $225.59 last December when the Christmas season created a heavy demand for cash—but the trend is again upward.

Total currency and coin in circulation as of April 30, was $43.7 billion.

Year-Round Recreational Program Active At Rupert

RUPERT—An extensive year-round recreational program for all ages is continuing into its second year here, under the direction of recreation director Paul McCloy, sponsored by the City of Rupert.

Mr. McCloy, who is a counselor at Junior-high schools in the county, has been with the city's summer recreation program for the past seven years, and is completing his first year on a full-time basis.

A total of 540 boys and girls have signed up for this summer's softball and baseball programs.

Girls are divided into three leagues, the novices, 8- and 10-year-olds, 11-year-olds, 12-year-olds, and 13-15-year-olds. Maximum number on any team, boys or girls, is 12, and most of the teams are completely filled. Registration has closed, but it is possible that some latecomers can be worked onto the teams.

Boys are organized for baseball, with the Pee Wee League, 8- and 10-year-olds, to play off the batting test rather than using live pitching. Seven teams are organized in this league.

There are nine teams in the Middle League, 10- and 11-year-olds, comprise eight teams.

The older boys are organized in a Minor League for 12- and 13-year-olds with seven teams and the Major League for boys 14- and 15-year-olds with five teams lined up for summer play.

Games are held on the Memorial field and Neptune Park softball field, both of which have lights for nighttime play.

Girl games last 1 1/2 hours of live play. And boys played 1 1/2 hours of live play. Games for novices and rookies, and veterans on Monday and Wednesday at 6 p.m. at the Memorial field.

The Pee Wee League plays at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday at 8:30 a.m. Monday and Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. Monday and Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. Monday and Wednesday at 8:30 a.m.

McCloy is planning for two coaches for each of the 45 teams, and most of the 50 are signed up, although there are some openings, particularly in the Pee Wee League.

Both men and women and some high school girls are assisting with the coaching.

Intending to help the swimming pool.

Adult ball programs include the Rupert Rangers, an American Legion team, who share the fields together with the Minidoka County Softball League which has been organized under leadership of Gary Swan, Jerry Freigater, and Dan Jank.

Their schedule is not complete. This group is planning an inter-city league with Burley, and will divide their games between the two cities.

Some of the boys' teams in ages 8 through 12 will be selected to play on Fridays with surrounding towns in Little League.

As a result of an adult recreation program for men, the men have recently organized a volleyball league, with play scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday nights through June and July.

Weather permitting, the games will be played outside near the tennis courts or they can be moved into the civic gymnasium.

Six teams have registered in the program to date, under chairmanship of Bill Thomas and John Head.

Recently begun is a weightlifting program under direction of Les Bock, Minidoka High School coach. This group is meeting at the civic building from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and will continue through most of the summer.

The municipal swimming pool will open between June 9 and 10 depending upon approval of the city council, with Eldean Stephenson hired to manage the pool this year.

A swim team of 30 youngsters is already organized under the direction of Betty Short, and Richard Benke, and they are meeting two nights a week at the civic gym doing work on the trampoline to perfect their diving form in anticipation of the opening of the pool. They will compete in local, district and state meets.

The Red Cross swimming program will again be sponsored by the city with Mrs. George Burton as the coordinator. Registration for the first of three Red Cross swimming classes will be from June 10 to 17. Swimmers start as young as 7 years and there are also adult classes available. Mrs. Burton reported that last year about 800 youngsters and adults participated in this swim training program.

After the pool opens the picnic shelters at the Neptune Park can be reserved at the office for family reunions and all types of parties.

Lighted tennis courts are also a part of the Neptune Park facilities, with play allowed as early as 7 p.m. In addition to a tennis tournament for all ages to begin soon, there will be a tennis tournament early this summer.

The singles and doubles events will be for boys and girls and adults.

Tennis racquets can be checked out at the pool office during hours, 1 to 8 p.m. daily and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

In the continuing year-round program, provisions are made for football, basketball, wrestling and a women's recreation program for two months during the winter. A group of 35 teenagers also participated in a ballroom dancing instruction project for four weeks recently under the direction of Mrs. Alene Weir.

The recreation program requires a $25,000 budget, with the city furnishing $22,000 and the county an additional $2,000.

Youngsters participating in the program are 60 per cent from outside the city limits.

Walcott Park At Minidoka Dam Has Wildlife Refuge

RUPERT—Walcott Park is added to the more important areas of the National Wildlife Refuge System, and the bureau has been in charge of the facilities in the area created by backwaters of the Minidoka Dam for the past three years, when they took over from the Bureau of Reclamation.

The bureau has launched a long-range development plan for the area, which includes recreational facilities and a wildlife refuge.

This area is the only one in southern Idaho with the exception of Shoshone Falls Park, which is considered developed because of the tree growth and other facilities in the park.

Boating is a prime sport on the lake, which has 3,000 surface acres of boating area, extending to the west end of Bird Island, the rocky, shallow, south shore line as well as the eastern limits of the boating area are marked with buoys, and the lake is open to boating from April through Sept. 30. All types of boats are used on the lake.

Authorities are in the process of building 10 new boat docks for the park, with work expected to be completed by the end of May. The floating-type docks will cost an estimated $8,000 and there are presently no docks at the lake since all of the old ones were torn out this spring.

When the 20 new picnic tables are added to the park, there will be a total of 60 tables available to picnickers, and it is estimated that maintenance of an area the size of the park, which covers approximately 40 acres, costs about $5,000 per year. The maintenance supervisor is Scott Woolford, who is hired full time during the summer season.

No playground facilities are included in the park, and several other projects will come out of this development, according to Leon Littlefield, the refuge manager.

Included in plans for the immediate future are development of sanitary facilities, particularly flush-type toilets. The bureau plans to develop a campground area to the north of the park.

It is hoped that during the fiscal year beginning July 1 a nature trail can be developed. To leave the park to the north and make a one-mile loop back to the lake. The trail, which will be about one mile in length, will show various types of habitat, brush, trees, sagebrush, water, and "wildlife" and will include land and water birds.

The self-guided trail will increase understanding of the area, and the refuge managers also plan guided tours for special groups such as church groups, Audubon Society visits and Boy Scouts.

Future plans call for a visitors center. A feature display of mounted animals indigenous to the area as well as rocks, eggs and Indian artifacts for a study of natural history.

As a bird refuge, Minidoka Wildlife Refuge is one of the most important areas of the Pacific Flyway. Many common birds of the mallard-duck, and hunting enthusiasts have a hey-day during the fall hunting season on the 3,000 acre hunting area on the south side of the lake.

Officials can judge from the Canadian count of the summer so that by Aug. 1 they can estimate the number of birds in the fall flights and regulate the hunting season accordingly.

Last year the 1,100 hunters at the refuge took out an average of 2.3 birds per man. Only 12 per cent of the refuge is open to hunting. Other game birds included in a fairly simultaneous hunt are the ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian partridge.

The maximum number of hunters recorded on one day at the refuge has been 45, and this is considered most of the better hunting areas. A large number of out-of-state hunters take advantage of the mallard hunt, with California ranking high.

The only requirements to hunting on the refuge in season are a hunting license and duck stamp.

The refuge manager lists 201 species of birds which use the refuge during the year. Other wildlife in the park include 40 head of deer. One doe for the past three years has had twin fawns within sight of the bureau buildings. Other animals are rabbits, raccoons, skunks, coyotes, bobcats, all seen from time to time in the refuge.

Fishing is another sport ranking high on the refuge. Popular fishing spots are Cliford Springs and Smith Springs and in the spillway directly below the dam, where the fishing is sometimes sensational.

The state plans the lake with trout every year. Fishing is legal at the lake year-round except during the water fowl hunting season.

DALE BAIRD. TWO YOUNG MOUNTAIN GOATS, shown here with Dale Baird, regional conservation officer for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, Salmon, were picked up on Panther Creek. The goats will be sent to the World Boy Scout Jamboree this summer at Farragut State Park.

2 Mountain Goats To Go To Jamboree

SALMON—Two young mountain goats picked up on Panther Creek are expected to be sent to the World Boy Scout Jamboree this summer at Farragut State Park.

The two animals were taken from a private party and were approximately two weeks old at the time.

The animals were brought here by conservation officers for the Idaho Fish and Game Department. Dale Baird, regional conservation officer, said that it is unlawful to take young game animals and such action is subject to punishment by fine and or imprisonment.

In Delano, Calif., and left Minidoka County May 23.

A new manager and assistant manager will be hired for the refuge and Buck Spevak is the other maintenance man in addition to Mr. Woolford.

Mr. Littlefield has been transferred to the Kern-Pikeley Refuge.

Sergeant Ron Payne Is Human Rat Chaser

By TOM TIEDE

HOBOWOOD, Vietnam (NEA)—The men in his outfit call him the rat chaser. And the title especially fits Sgt. Ron Payne.

He's a tunnel expert here. His war is underground. And the rats he chases are human.

Payne, 21, from Atlanta, Ga., has a ghastly job. He spends much of his time grubbing through the foul-smelling tunnel systems which are both shelter and sanctuary for Viet Cong guerrillas.

The tunnels are overstocked with all manner of deers, chief among which are the cornered enemy soldiers who sit quietly, guns in hand and dare intruders to trespass.

Payne accepts the dare. Has for months. And in the course has risked his life as often and

Tom Tiede
In Vietnam

It was instantly dark. Payne grunted.

"I'll yell if I need help," His outfit agreed.

Payne moved on slowly. Experience had tutored him. Caution.

Scrambling guerrillas would invariably leave booby traps in their wake. . . . and each would have to be painfully picked out and disengaged.

The tunnel was of the shape and size of a reservoir water duct. It was dank and the earth was cool. It was also dusty. In places and the sergeant's eyes watered in the fog of foreign particles.

His flashlight picked up moving shadows and from time to time. Payne used the butt of his pistol to crack the life out of a creeping scorpion. The scorpions, about two to three inches long, are not necessarily poisonous, but carry a paralyzing sting. Then there were the spiders. Enormous, blood-bellied, creatures which fed on the blood of their fellows. They clung to the tunnel walls with sticky legs that often measure three inches in length.

There were other things, also. Centipedes, beetles, roaches and whole colonies of active ants. Payne had run into coiled snakes in his time, big ones and even an occasional snarling animal.

But such were minor irritations. The prime worry was the chase itself. And while on it, the sergeant's thoughts fixed solely on the sight or the sound of the fleeing, frightened enemy rat.

Then, ahead, he heard him. His light caught an outline. "Here he is!" Payne yelled.

The VC stopped. "Hurry up and help me!" At the sound the VC guerrilla fired one round at Payne. He missed. Payne returned in kind. He missed also. The guerrilla fumbled in the darkness and tried to get a steady shot.

Then he heard a thud. His light glinted on a small object bouncing towards him. It dribbled and rolled. A hand grenade! The iron ball stopped under the GI's chest and Payne, unable to move, braced himself for the blast.

It never came. Payne stared at the grenade in utter disbelief. It was a dud. It lay there harmless as a giant bug.

"God!" Payne sighed. He wiped his face. . . . and shook. Then, swatting the dud away with his arm, he raised himself to his hands and knees and crawled into the darkness after his rat.

German Bus Mishap Kills 12 Persons

STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—A bus filled with elderly British tourists skidded off a rain-slicked highway and careened Wednesday night, killing 12 passengers and injuring 31 persons.

One passenger said a speeding car overtook the bus on the Stuttgart-Munich Autobahn and cut in front of it, forcing the bus driver to brake suddenly. Police were investigating and gave no official account of the accident's cause.

The bus was carrying 40 tourists and two women attendants from Luxembourg to the cathedral city of Ulm on the Danube River.

Class Holds Farewell Ceremony

MALTA—Nicholas Nedds was master of ceremonies for the eighth grade graduation class when they presented a farewell program recently at the Raft River High School gymnasium. With the theme "Memory Lane," members of the graduating class related our scenes, some of them humorous, from the various grades in school. Music was directed by Robert Thompson with Elizabeth Nye accompanying. Steven Schottzmin gave the class will. Dance numbers were presented by Betty Jo Durfee and Cathy Graden. The class prophesy was given by the Oman and Diana Baker. Rosetta Ward sang "Climb Every Mountain." Elizabeth Nye played a piano solo. David Bode, eighth grade teacher, was in charge of arrangements.

Group To Beautify Salmon Road

SALMON—The Idaho Highway Department is planning a program of highway beautification in the Salmon area. "E. L. Mathes, state highway engineer, said that protection of a scenic area along U.S. Highway 93 from Carmen to North Fork and two rest areas, north and south of Salmon, are scheduled. Protection of areas immediately adjacent to U.S. Highway 93 from Carmen to North Fork will be undertaken under the scenic easement principal. The program is estimated to cost about $30,000. One of the rest area sites is at Kiley Gulch north of Salmon and this project is expected to be ready to advertise for bid in mid-1967. The cost is estimated at $3,000. Another rest area is planned for a site approximately 20 miles south of Salmon at a cost of $30,000. The 1956 Congress enacted a Federal Highway Beautification Act in 1955 to provide for scenic development and roadside beautification. Harry L. Day, district highway engineer, said that obtaining an easement adjacent to the highway is simply a purchase of a right to restrict commercial development. The law permits an easement 1000 feet from the highway on either side, and that the land owner be compensated for not developing the property commercially.

Assault

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Alexander Young, 35, has been fined $14 after parking his Rolls Royce in a no-waiting area on a patrolman's foot. Constable Ralph Perkins testified Wednesday that Young was angered when Perkins told him he could not leave his car at Queen Street "hill terminal." He rolled the Rolls back on the policeman's foot, locked the car and walked off, Perkins said. Onlookers tried in vain to free Perkins. He couldn't move until Young returned, and his foot was badly bruised. Perkins denied he deliberately drove onto constable's foot. He was convicted of assault.

Congressmen Join Forces In Action Against Mid-East War

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators, critics and backers of President Johnson's Vietnam war course are joining forces in support of action to preserve Israel from the pincers of warring Arab nations. While any immediate solution for the crisis triggered by Egypt's closing of the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping obviously eludes them, they agree the United States has committed itself to carry out to preserve Israel's territorial integrity. Surprisingly, some of the most vigorous critics of U.S. involvement in Vietnam are willing to go it alone in the Middle East if that is necessary to save the Jewish state. One of these, Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, told the Senate Wednesday it was commendable for the United States to seek cooperation from other nations to end the Middle East crisis, something he said it "was too big" it didn't do in Vietnam. But if other nations do not respond, Gruening said, this country must act alone to assemble the necessary military force to keep the Gulf of Aqaba open to all shipping. "The United States cannot stand idly by and permit its flagships to be searched by Egypt on the high seas," he said. "Nor can the United States allow any and permit Egypt to starve Israel, for the United States has definite commitments to Israel—commitments given repeatedly in no uncertain terms by presidents from President Truman on."

This contrasted with the previously expressed view of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., that the United States should make it clear in advance that it will act alone. Stennis, who has complained that political restrictions are limiting the military effort in Vietnam, said this country cannot become "the sole policeman of the entire world."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who has opposed escalation of the Vietnam war, called for a multilateral accord on the Middle East. He added: "But United States exploration of this possibility should not be misinterpreted as any weakening of our solemn undertaking to 'honor our commitment to Israeli security and territorial integrity.'"

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who is against stepping up the Vietnam conflict, suggested that if the United Nations fails to produce any satisfactory settlement the Big Four nations be called upon to act.

Mansfield said he thinks the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union should be able to work out free passage of ships in the Gulf of Aqaba by an agreement similar to the 1936 accord under which shipping flows through the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, agreeing that Israel must be saved, skirted any commitments until Johnson decided how to act in the crisis. Dirksen, who has supported the President's Vietnam actions, said he assumes Johnson will ask and get congressional backing for any decision he makes.

Johnson said he would not be used to defray the types of expenses paid by the government, but that private money might be used.

"Since our purpose is to reduce the reliance of candidates on small groups of wealthy contributors, we must be careful not to superimpose a layer of large private donations," Barr said.

Even before Barr testified President Johnson's newest bid to put the burden of presidential election campaign financing on the taxpayer encountered Senate opposition.

Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware protested Wednesday against a scheduled finance committee hearing on Johnson's measure. The hearing subsequently was called off.

Johnson's plan would provide a subsidy for radio, television and newspaper advertising preparation and distribution of campaign literature and travel designed to bring the issues before the public.

Johnson said private donations could continue to be accepted by political parties to defray other expenses such as salaries, overhead, research, polls and administrative expenses.

15,000 Baptists Asked To Endorse Statement Questioning War Motives

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An outspoken opponent of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, spoke today "not to be blinded by distorted appeals to false patriotism—and to endorse a peace statement which questions U.S. motives in the Vietnam war."

"In view of the precarious balance of terror which exists in this nuclear age, the waging of peace is a responsibility believers can evade only at great cost," said the report of the Christian-Lite Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, which has 10,952,483 members in 33,949 churches.

The commission said it was "disturbed" both by the weight of world opinion which questions the wisdom of our current policy and by those at home who doubt the patriotism of anyone who questions our government's official position.

After surviving an attempt Wednesday on the floor of the 11th annual session to abolish the commission for its report, the group published the document before members for a vote. Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., said he hoped the statement would be "a catalyst for a new kind of patriotism" so that they lost sight of the personal tragedy, the great sorrow, and the fantastic cost attached to the present conflict."

The report urged the Southern Baptists to reiterate their "historic commitment to peace" which began with an 1891 petition for "arbitration in the place of war."

Wednesday the convention elected the Rev. Dr. H. Franklin Paschall of Nashville, Tenn., as its president and adopted a record $26.7-million budget.

There are no viable alternatives on which negotiations can be based," the report asked. "Have we allowed national pride to become an impediment to the development of industrial complex in our nation, causing economic self-interest to become a factor in decisions relating to war and to the sale of armaments abroad?"

The statement said: "We call upon all the churches not to be blinded by distorted appeals to false patriotism" so that they

Hoover Puts Finger On Riot Makers

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says that civil rights leaders who predict racial disturbances in specific cities are in effect telling trouble makers "they are expected to riot."

"It is more like an open invitation to rioters and trouble makers in these areas to move into action, on cue," Hoover said. "Where are the reasons and judgment in this type of leadership?"

He did name the leaders he had in mind but he appeared to be referring to Stokely Carmichael, former head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Dr. Martin Luther King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

King has said trouble may be expected this summer in Cleveland and other cities. Carmichael has similarly pinpointed Washington, D.C.

Hoover's statement appeared in the June issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

The statement said: "Police officials, as well as the general public, are becoming weary of persons who, for self-aggrandizement and monetary gain, exploit noble causes and agitate peaceful groups into rioting mobs."

"Some so-called leaders seem to blow hot and cold with the same breath. Their preaching is inconsistent."

Hoover said that the FBI is not interested in the activities of individuals who are not law-abiding citizens.

Miss Sanford Proctor Repeat Nuptial Vows

The Immanuel Lutheran Church, Twin Falls, was the setting of the May 12 evening wedding ceremony of Rosemary Jan Sanford and Gary C. Proctor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Myers, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Proctor, Hansen.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Iben, Twin Falls, before a background setting of blue carnations and yellow chrysanthemums, flanked by ivory tapers in brass candleholders decorated with matching blossoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length princess - styled gown of bonded blue tulle. The train and bell sleeves were fashioned of blue Venice lace with a matching lace train. Her elbow-length double veil of illusion net was held by a tulle of pearls. The gown and veil were designed especially for the bride by her mother.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of yellow and blue carnations on a white ribbon given to her by her grandparents. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant given her by the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wanda Wright, Ogden, sister of the bride, gave her the ring. The bridesmaids, including a niece of the bride, were flower girls, and Greg Snow, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer.

Larry Shepherd, Hansen, served as best man. Tom Proctor and Tom Butler were ushers and also served as the candlelighters.

Harvey Miskman was soloist and Herbert Einspahr was the organist.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Mrs. Myra DeFord registered the guests.

The bride's table was draped with white nylon flounces, topped with blue tulle caught in to scalloped with yellow carnations tied with satin bows. The three-tiered wedding cake centered the table and was decorated with blue and silver ribbons and topped with white love birds and netting. The cake was flanked by yellow tapers in crystal holders.

A crystal punch bowl and a silver coffee service completed the table appointments.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Margie Remington, and Mrs. Loretta Snow, sister of the bride. Coffee was served by Mrs. Sharon Proctor, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Vivian Bragg served the punch. Gifts were received by Mrs. Judy Busher and Mrs. Myra DeFord. Assisting with the reception were members of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Special out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kroeger, Loveland, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dege, Boise, Idaho; and Mr. and Mrs. Hannah Kappmeyer, Orange, Calif., aunt of the bride. Others attending from Twin Falls were: Castleford, Buhl, Wendell, Members of both the Kimberly and Murtaugh congregations were present. Each group presented him gifts.

Rev. Delbert Remaley and family will move here June 15. He is transferring to the Idaho Conference from Pennsylvania. They have four children.

Jerry Scott will give the sermon Sunday. Mr. Scott is from the Kimberly church, and is attending the College of Southern Idaho at Twin Falls. At the Kimberly conference he was granted license to preach, as he is planning to take the ministry as his vocation.

There were 38 members of the family present, including her great-grandchildren and great-grandchildren from Buhl, Twin Falls, Jerome and Shoshone.

Mrs. Omer Shook baked the wedding cake in the shape of a flower basket.

DEAR ABBY: I recently moved to a new city. In our former city we knew a girl who babysat for us. She came from a very poor family—in all respects, she was a poor girl. She had intelligence and good moral values, although the only time she ever attended church was with us. Now the girl is pregnant at 18. Thank God she isn't considering marriage. Her immediate family has disassociated themselves from her, and she is now living with a divorced aunt who is apparently more interested in her as a housekeeper than anything else. My wife and I are considering asking this girl to live with us. What do you think is that she should finish high school and stay out of trouble, if she decides to go to college, we would send her. We feel that a fresh start in a new community may be just what she needs. On the other hand, could we be asking for more than we can handle? Sometimes when people stick their noses into places they shouldn't they get no thanks but lots of grief. So far we haven't made the offer. What do you think?

DEAR ABBY: My 11-year-old daughter read your piece for mail to lonely service men, so she wrote to one and sent it to the address you had in your column. I am enclosing part of the reply she received from her pen-pal.

That's exactly what our mother does. She has a small, but beautiful figure, and we all know it, but does she have to show it off in front of her children?

When I remind her she has a 20-year-old son in the house, she says, "What? Is Joseph's pay any attention to me?" I am 14 and have much more modesty than my mother. Please tell me what I can do about this terrible situation as it is getting worse every day.

DEAR DAUGHTER: Your obvious annoyance over the possibility that Big Brother might catch a glimpse of Mamma's "small but beautiful figure" gives me more cause for alarm than anything else. Quietly close Mamma's bedroom door while she dresses and don't make a single noise.

DEAR ABBY: We recently moved to a new city. In our former city we knew a girl who babysat for us. She came from a very poor family—in all respects, she was a poor girl. She had intelligence and good moral values, although the only time she ever attended church was with us. Now the girl is pregnant at 18. Thank God she isn't considering marriage. Her immediate family has disassociated themselves from her, and she is now living with a divorced aunt who is apparently more interested in her as a housekeeper than anything else. My wife and I are considering asking this girl to live with us. What do you think is that she should finish high school and stay out of trouble, if she decides to go to college, we would send her. We feel that a fresh start in a new community may be just what she needs. On the other hand, could we be asking for more than we can handle? Sometimes when people stick their noses into places they shouldn't they get no thanks but lots of grief. So far we haven't made the offer. What do you think?

Prinkipo Is Rated Dark Horse By Experts Sizing Up Belmont Stakes Field

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The word was out to beware of Prinkipo as a field of nine shaped up Wednesday for the 99th running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct. Prinkipo was the favorite over Kentucky Derby hero Proud Clarion. Who is Prinkipo that he should be rated a chance against such outstanding candidates for the 3-year-old division title as Damascus and Proud Clarion?

Permits For Wild Turkey Will Be Drawn On July 21

BOISE — One hundred fifty controlled hunt permits for Idaho's first wild turkey hunt in history will be issued to lucky winners at a public drawing scheduled in Boise at 9 a.m. July 21, it was announced today by the State Fish and Game Department. Other permits will be drawn at the same time for controlled hunts on antelope, elk and deer, according to Kay Belnap, chief of business administration. If insufficient applications are received by the original drawing date, the drawing may be held open for additional time and a second drawing will be held.

Bratkowski Signs

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Zeke Bratkowski, the pro quarterback of Green Bay's professional football champions, signed his 1967 Packer contract Wednesday.

Bratkowski, backup man for Green Bay's perfect Bart Starr, is an 11-year veteran who will be 35 years old Oct. 20.

He will pick up the final points in a course at University of Iowa, a course, incidentally, which will be paid for by his taxidermy work.

Tom first came into the public eye a couple of years ago when his work was displayed at the old Wray's Cafe. He's picked up the "hang-it-it" by listening to his father and adds, with great appreciation, the intelligence of Larry Sabie, whose work can be seen at Penny-Wise Drug.

"We thought Tom was doing a great job then," says Mr. Schlemmer of the Wray's Cafe.

But it was a valuable start. The family was soon by many persons and paid off in orders from persons ranging from Chicago and South Carolina to California.

An insurance company president of Chicago picked up Tom's name on the display and ordered a pair of pheasants to fall. Tom figured no sweat until the hen season was closed midway through the season.

Then came a final push on a county road, killed by a car. Tom believes there's a great future in museum taxidermy for a man with dedication and a little talent, both of which he possesses. "Most of the good ones are men in their 30s and 40s," he notes.

Young people don't often become interested in taxidermy. "I don't think I have the patience," Tom said Wednesday night, testing out a bear skin. "For instance, I've been down here since three o'clock. (It was now 7:30). I've got a couple more hours to go on."

Birds, however, remain his first love. "Each one is different. Some you put in the position you want in five minutes. Others take an hour and others just don't look natural no matter how you try to set them up."

"Naturalness is the key. 'I started out mounting so many ducks that everything I did for a while looked like a duck,' he smiles.

"There's a tendency to put the legs too far back. You want to watch the legs. He's seen his live subjects contort into every possible position and is artist enough to convert this into his work."

His worst chore to date also was one of his great loves. It was the Bald Eagle.

"I had been dead for quite a while when it was discovered," Tom recalls. "When I got it, it was about half dead, and there was a dead fish in its craw. Reaching in and getting that rotten fish out was about the smelliest thing I've ever had to do."

In addition he had to use wax to reproduce some of the wax parts of the eagle.

Overall the hunting and taxidermy came in mounting the Whistler Swan. To administer the preservative the bird skin was "turned out."

Sox Outlast Twins For 3-2 Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski's clutch home run and reliever John Wyatt checked off an eight-inning rally as the Boston Red Sox edged Minnesota Wednesday night for their fourth straight victory.

Yastrzemski led off the fourth inning by drilling Twins starter Jim Perry's second pitch into the seats in dead center field for his ninth homer of the season.

He led off the seventh with a drive into the Red Sox bullpen.

Boston's starter Darrell Brandon breezed along on a two-hitter before loading the bases in the eighth.

Wyatt came in and got Harry Kalen, who had hit Yastrzemski for the second out.

Sandy Valdespino scored after the catch but when Cesar Tovar attempted to score on the wild-throw to the plate he was thrown out by Wyatt, backing up the play.

Foyt Wins 500-Mile Race As Turbine Car Bid For Victory Is 3 Laps Short

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A. J. Foyt, winner in spite of an apparently hopeless battle against a fantastic aircraft engine, won the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race Wednesday for the third time. Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., apparently had the race locked up when his STP-Pratt & Whitney turbine car failed with only 1 1/2 miles to go. The engine was running when he limped into the pits with a bearing failure.

Failure Hit Jones As He Was Coasting

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — For want of a healthy gear bearing, the fastest race in 500-mile motor classic history was lost by the revolutionary turbine car driven by Parnelli Jones Wednesday.

Jones, 1963 winner, who apparently had the 500-mile race wrapped up in a fancy ribbon of record-breaking laps, was stunned but, light-lipped after his car stopped, said he didn't know what had happened. "I was fairly certain, as certain as you can be in this unpredictable race, that I was going to checkered flag," said Jones. "There were only four laps left, and I was running very slow, taking no chances, as the yellow light was on. Then the trouble started without any indication of gear box failure."

Hard-luck Andy Granatelli, president of the Studebaker STP division who thought he had a clinch winner in the turbine engine, had only a technical explanation of the car's startling home stretch collapse. "You all know we had gear problems earlier this month here, but it was not the gears, it was a bearing failure in the gear box."

The stunning turbine setback, which allowed Foyt to surge his orange-red Coyote Ford to his third 500-mile triumph in seven years, may have collapsed the dream of a new type of turbine engine.

Based on what the turbine showed in running away from the field before its incredible breakdown, a groundswell was growing to prohibit or drastically modify future turbine contenders.

STEVE MILLER, a 5-foot guard director, Sutton also announced the 1967-68 basketball schedule for his Golden Eagles. "We are very pleased to get Miller," said Coach Sutton. "He is an outstanding boy in addition to being a pretty good basketball player. He is a fine shooter. I believe he will be able to play some for us as a freshman and be real good help as a sophomore."

Sutton said Miller was president of the 3,200 student body at Central and was voted the outstanding senior. He played his junior season for Coach Sutton and went on to all-state honors this past year.

In looking at the schedule for next year, Coach Sutton notes the Eagles will play 18 of their 26 games at home. "We're hopeful of lining up more games at home but if we don't we still have a good schedule," he said.

The schedule, subject to some date changes, includes Nov. 24 exhibition with the Phillips Oilers at Burley; Nov. 27, Western Wyoming at Rock Springs; Dec. 1, CSI at Boise; Dec. 15, College of Eastern Utah here, and Dec. 18, CSI at Ricks.

Jan. 4, Ricks here; Jan. 8, Northern Idaho at Pocatello; Jan. 12, CSI at ISU; Jan. 13, CSI at BYU; Jan. 15, CSI at Utah State; Jan. 18, CSI at North Idaho; Jan. 22, BYU at Pocatello; Jan. 25, BYU at Pocatello; Jan. 27, Sheldon College, Idaho, here; Feb. 3, College of Idaho here; Feb. 10, TVCC here; Feb. 13, ISU at Pocatello; Feb. 16, CSI at Weber State; Feb. 17, CSI at Eastern Utah; Feb. 24, Montana State here.

The team also will participate in the annual "Hooper" basketball game, the first week of March. "I think we'll have a very good season," said Sutton.

Epstein Hopes To Repay Vote Of Confidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mike Epstein, the hulking first baseman who refused to report to the minor leagues when sent down by Baltimore, said Wednesday he wants to repay at once the vote of confidence the Washington Senators have in him.

"I'm very grateful to the Senators for giving me a chance," said Epstein, acquired from the Orioles by Washington Monday along with pitcher Frank Bertain for the Senators' No. 1 pitcher, Pete Ricketts.

Epstein, smiling and apparently in good spirits, made his remarks at a hastily called news conference before he worked out in D.C. Stadium after arriving from California.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pounder, former League Player of the Year after playing at the end of the International League in 1966, went home to California three weeks ago rather than report back to Rochester.

"It was actually very serious about quitting," said Epstein. "I didn't want to quit, but I was going anywhere. I'm in the Baltimore organization."

"The Orioles haven't traded me," he said. "I haven't stayed out of baseball. And I mean it. I was already enrolled in school and had a good job waiting for me. I wasn't hurrying."

Larsen Is Now Toiling In AA League

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Don Larsen, who 11 years ago was elected the sports world with a perfect game in the World Series, is playing his trade with Dallas-Fort Worth of the Class AA Texas Rangers.

He has been with seven clubs since placing that gem with the New York Yankees, twice failing down to the minor leagues below Class AAA until now.

But he hasn't anywhere near been through baseball. "I've been through a lot of things," he said. "I've been through a lot of things."

Phils Erupt In 11th To Rip L. A. 6-0

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Wertz, who last season drove home Johnny Briggs in the 11th inning and the Philadelphia Phillies went on to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-0 Wednesday night.

Wertz's single followed a one-out intentional walk to Johnny Callison, who had two singles and a triple, and drove home Johnny Briggs, who had singled in the ninth.

It was the veteran White's first hit in 19 years at bat. He has been sidelined most of the season with a neck injury.

Clay Dalrymple struck out after White's hit, but Cookie Rojas followed with a single to Dick Hall, who replaced Willie Davis in the 10th, were hooked up in a scoreless duel going into the 11th.

MEER BIDDING.
BRAVE SCORING
The nicest things seem to duplicate to experts in duplicate bridge games. South was an expert, although you may think his five-heart bid was a silly underbid.

South was disappointed about the whole thing and even more disappointed when he saw the dummy. He rattled off 13 tricks and scored 710 points, 500 for game plus 210 for making seven.

When South offered to bet that they had a good score, North snapped up the offer. At this point East turned to North and asked if he wanted to bet some more. East said that he would almost be willing to bet that North-South had tied for top.

East and South were right. When the scores were in, it turned out that at every table where North and South had bid to six or seven hearts, East and West had defended, and that seven spades had only gone down four tricks. Four tricks down represented 700 points. While a 10-point difference means nothing in rubber-bridge, it makes all the difference in the world in duplicate.

A—Just bid three spades. You will make your move later on.

Noise Or Music?

That's The Question

Dear Ele and Walt: For three years I've begged and pleaded with my parents to let me buy a set of drums. It wouldn't cost anything, because I've got the money in the bank from my paper route. But they always say, "No, it's too noisy." Now today I come home from school, and at the end of the block I hear this horrible sound. When I reach my house, I see a new sign on the door that says "Drums." My parents spent $1,200 on it. It's twice as noisy as drums will be. Now who's not of love do you call that?—No Drums, No Love.

Dear No-No: Come on, chum, let's not get carried away. Your parents love you, but they're not crazy about drum music. If you'd listen, they'd probably say that an organ can be played pleasantly and that they're not crazy about drum music. If you'd listen, they'd probably say that an organ can be played sound-like music, whereas drums are only noisy to neighbors.

Suppose you ask the folks for organ lessons yourself. That'll give you a musical base, and after you leave home you can use it to study drums (if you still have the inclination).—Ele and Walt.

HER STEADY'S UNSTEADY.
Dear Ele and Walt: I have been going steady for nearly a year. At first this made me feel pretty special, but now every-thing's turning out miserably for me. Of course my boyfriend calls me up every night, but after that he calls my girl friend. Another reason I'm not happy is that we never go anywhere alone. All my girl friends come with him, because my boyfriend is a real homebody. Sometimes he even goes to a party with a total of three roommates. He's a real homebody. I don't want to hurt my friends' feelings by complaining, and I'm afraid to tell them about it. So?—Not Special Now.

Dear Not: If you've been going steady for almost a year, then you shouldn't fear a good set of drums. It wouldn't cost anything, because I've got the money in the bank from my paper route. But they always say, "No, it's too noisy." Now today I come home from school, and at the end of the block I hear this horrible sound. When I reach my house, I see a new sign on the door that says "Drums." My parents spent $1,200 on it. It's twice as noisy as drums will be. Now who's not of love do you call that?—No Drums, No Love.

Dear Ele and Walt: I am in a 19-year-old boy or is that man? I work in an office and earn a respectable salary out of which I pay my folks $25 a week for food and shelter. This seems right and proper. It also seems just that they have something to say about the hours I keep. By the way, I'm justified in interfering a great deal with my friendships and social life. Insisting on a change of curfew?—Bert.

Dear Bert: In a word, YES! But you're not out of your downy nest and establish a home (and rules) of your own. Granted, it's easier living with a built-in social life. Do it right and proper. It also seems just that they have something to say about the hours I keep. By the way, I'm justified in interfering a great deal with my friendships and social life. Insisting on a change of curfew?—Bert.
